Russians Set for Great Smash Into Pre-War Germany

Battle to Within Nine Miles of Enemy Rail Centre of Tilsit in Western Lithuania

LONDON, Oct. 12 (P).—Russian troops battled their way to within nine miles of the German rail centre of Tilsit today, hurling the enemy back across the East Prussian frontier on a 110-mile front in Western Lithuania as they prepared for their first crossing in strength into prewar Germany.

A Moscow communique announced that other Soviet forces had driven to within five miles of Riga, Latvian capital, and to within 15 miles of the West Latvian port of Liepaja, steadily backing up the estimated 150,000 Axis troops cut off by the Soviet Army's salient which three days ago reached the Baltic coast north of Imperial Memel.

Although the Axis radio reported Russian troops had broken into Memel's streets, and Berlin said a furious tank battle was under way just a few miles from the East Prussian port, the Moscow communique did not announce any further gains in the immediate Memel area.

Far to the south other Soviet forces captured the Western Rumanian rail hub of Oradea, main escape route for German troops retreating in Transylvania, and drove another spearhead to within 80 miles of imperiled Budapest as they widened their hold along the east bank of the Tisza River, last big water barrier before the Hungarian capital.

South of the Danube River Red Army troops and Marshal Tito's Partisans seized Smederevo, 23 miles southeast of Belgrade, Yugoslav capital which appeared to be on the verge of early liberation.

A midnight Soviet bulletin announced that the Russians during the day had reached the Baltic at a second point north of Memel, capturing Skutai, 15 miles south of the Latvian port of Liepaja.

The fall of Subotica in Northern Yugoslavia cut the Belgrade-Budapest trunk railway, a backbone of Axis defences in the Balkans.

From Europe Day by Day—

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright 1944, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, Oct. 12 (P).—Canadian troops have successfully cut off the German escape from Walcheren, south of the Beveland Islands, and have advanced westward along the Scheldt estuary.

According to The Times correspondent, the Twenty-first Army Group, the Germans attach much importance to the defence of Beveland Peninsula, as is shown by the fact they are now employing their rarely used 75-millimetre, self-propelled assault guns as well as tanks.

Out of 30 Nazi counter-attacks, only one had any degree of success. It split the narrow Canadian bridgehead on the Leopold Canal, but by sheer obstinacy and tremendous effort the Canadians broke up the intruding force and made their front solid again.

Flying conditions have been hopeless. The enemy garrison in Dunkerque has been sending out patrols, but no serious action has developed. Apart from the U.S. troops based on Aachen, the Western Front is relatively quiet, except on the Vosges Mountains, where French troops are fighting about Belfort.

It is clear, says The Times correspondent, the Germans have been able to strengthen their defences greatly along the entire Western Front, where the strongest threat is that by Canadian and United Kingdom troops in Holland.

According to The Times military correspondent, the Russians have begun preliminary for the invasion of East Prussia, and the Nazis announce a full-scale offensive has actually started.

Premier Churchill in Moscow has been hearing Victory salutes from the batteries around the capital. His talks, says The Times Moscow correspondent, concern not only the final campaign for ending the war against Germany, but treatment of the German people thereafter.

Marshal Stalin has shown what great importance he attaches to the prevention of future wars. Hopes for a Polish settlement have been raised again by Premier Churchill.

Antwerp Taken, Aachen Besieged

CANADIAN bridgeheads on the south shore of the Scheldt in Holland have been consolidated after new landings opposite Flushing. On the success of these important movements of the British forces hangs, perhaps, victory in 1944. The small arrow on the map indicates British action near Antwerp, since captured. Larger arrows show two elements of the American First and Third Armies along the Siegfried Line. Aachen (A) is surrounded and the attack on it under way, while American troops are pushing forward in the Metz area (B).

Canadians Fight to Open Gate to Antwerp Harbor

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

ANTWERP, Oct. 12 (CP).—From the Normandy beachhead to Holland, the coast-hopping Canadians have been driving the Germans from port to port and now they are fighting for the greatest prize of all—the opening of this port of Antwerp which will be of incalculable value to the Allied Armies as it would solve the supply problem.

A month ago British armored columns took the city. A week ago Canadians cleared the port area. But Antwerp is an inland port 40 miles up the winding River Scheldt and a force of nearly 40,000 Germans has been left behind on the Scheldt coast to delay its opening as long as possible. Big coastal batteries on the river coast prevent ships passing up the estuary.

The Canadians have taken the ports of Caen, Rouen, Dieppe, Boulogne, Calais, Zeebrugge and Ostend in their march across Northern France and Belgium to the Dutch frontier. Then these veteran port liberators were given the order: "Clear the Scheldt and open Antwerp."

They rapidly developed the three-pronged operation aimed at German positions on both sides of the Scheldt that is now in full swing. With Antwerp going full blast, six Allied armies supplied to capacity all the time could probably roll forward for weeks. And with good flying weather to aid the ground advance, the war might soon be finished.

So the Canadians struck first on the Leopold Canal in Belgium. The German 44th Division was drawn into battle and although the Canadian bridgehead was not expanded.

Fisheries Experts In Sessions Here

Effect of heavy fishing of dogfish and sharks off the Pacific Coast, upon world-wide demand for the vitamin "A" found in the livers of these fish, is being studied in detail at a conference of California, Oregon, Washington and Canadian fisheries experts here.

Dr. Richard Van Cleave, of the California State Fish and Game Commission, is chairman, and Dr. J. L. Hart, of Fisheries Research Board of Canada, Nanaimo, is secretary.

The conference, it was explained yesterday, has been chiefly concerned with biological investigations carried out by the various authorities, its purpose being to pool and exchange data each has collected. The object was to co-ordinate their investigations and work out co-operative measures.

It was explained that fishing for sharks and dogfish is an international matter, since the boats of both countries fish off the coast of the other, and that the study is being made on a broad international viewpoint.

Service Resumed

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (P).—Direct telephone communication between Berlin and Stockholm was resumed today after a break of more than 100 hours. The B.B.C. said in a broadcast reported by C.B.S. B.B.C. said the cause of the break still is unexplained.

PARALYSIS CASES
EDMONTON, Oct. 12 (P).—Infantile paralysis cases in the province start of the year reached 81 today when a "polio" case was reported to provincial health authorities here from Duchesne, in Southern Alberta. The victim is a 12-year-old girl.

Kicked by Rabbit Man in Hospital

TACOMA, Oct. 12 (P).—Kicked by a rabbit, Fred Hansen, 71, of Tacoma, is tonight recovering in a Tacoma hospital.

With an open clasp knife in his pocket, Hansen was this afternoon preparing to kill and dress a rabbit for dinner when the animal gave several hard kicks, plunging the knife into his abdomen. He was taken to the surgery immediately upon arrival at the hospital, where it was found the knife did not penetrate any vital spots. Tonight his condition is fair.

Big Planes Blast Nazis At Bologna

Greatest Blow Yet On Italian Front

ROME, Oct. 12 (CP).—United States heavy bombers in their greatest blow yet in the Italian campaign delivered a "Cassini-type" assault on Germans in the Bologna area today attempting to blast a path for the halted Fifth Army, while Canadian and British troops on the Adriatic front made advances as the Germans fell back to new defence lines.

The largest armada of Italy-based United States bombers—even greater than the one which last Cassini in ruins last Spring—cast a load of fragmentation and demolition bombs on German installations supporting the Nazi death stand in the Apennine Mountains before the Po Valley.

As air might loosened up the Allied Fifth Army sector, front reports said Canadian forces near the Adriatic coast made a surprise advance of more than three miles across the Lombardy tableland where the Germans were pulling back to new defence lines.

Headquarters said that gains by the Eighth Army in recent days had outflanked German positions north of the Guinico River and had compelled the enemy to withdraw to a line running through Gambellola and southwest through Gambellola.

Gambellola is two and one-half miles southeast of the important junction town of Cesena on the main highway between Rimini and Bologna.

An official report of the battle raging ten miles south of Bologna at Lavenzano declared that "contrasted with their former tactics of withdrawing after a tough delaying action, the enemy now is making an all-out stand and is fighting strenuously until killed or captured."

13th V.C. for Indian Army

LONDON, Oct. 12 (CP).—The Victoria Cross has been awarded posthumously to Jemadar (Acting Subadar) Netra Bahadur Thapa, of the 5th Royal Gurkha Rifles frontier force, for a heroic action in Burma, it was announced tonight.

It was the 13th V.C. awarded to a member of the Indian Army. Six Canadians have won the Victoria Cross since the war began.

The citation said Thapa took over an isolated bluff on a hillside commanding the Bishuppur base in Burma last June 19, and fought against overwhelming odds for eight hours before he was killed by a grenade. His body was found with his khukri—sharp knife—in his hand, and a dead Japanese with a cleft skull beside him.

Hit Oil Plants On Borneo Isle

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NEW GUINEA, Oct. 12 (P).—Five groups of heavy bombers, escorted by fighters, bombed the oil refineries at Balikpapan, Borneo, Tuesday, headquarters announced today.

A total of 135 tons of explosives was unloaded on the petroleum centre, which produces 15 per cent of Japan's aviation gasoline.

"This raid was the first escorted attack on the Borneo base. Fighter planes flew more than 1,800 miles to protect the heavy bombers, believed to be the greatest operational distance for fighters in the history of aerial warfare."

The Allied communique said the cracking plant at Balikpapan had been rendered totally and probably permanently inoperable.

Bid for Friendship

MADRID, Oct. 12 (P).—Spain, through her Foreign Minister, today made an open bid for the friendship of the Allies and denied she acted as a "troublemaker" in Latin America.

Most of Aachen in Smoking Ruins as Germans Hurl 150 Fighter Planes Into Defence

Allies Take Factory Suburb While Ancient City Is Plastered With Shells and Bombs

LONDON, Oct. 12 (P).—The German High Command tonight hurled 150 fighter planes into the defence of flaming Aachen as American infantry wrested a northeastern factory suburb from the stand-and-die garrison and massed for the final assault on this ancient invasion gateway to Germany.

Eighty-five per cent of Aachen—subjected to a greater ordeal by fire than any part of Germany had undergone before—lay in smoking ruins, pilots reported after 500 tons of bombs were rained during the day on this historic city of German kings.

The swarm of Messerschmitts and Focke-Wulfs droned over, apparently bent on attacking the siege lines, just as the last American bombs were crashing down, and some United States fighter-bombers turned to attack with a ton of bombs still attached to their wings.

In the aerial maelstrom, 12 German planes and four American fighters were shot down.

Out of the smoking, rain-drenched ruin that was Aachen struggled a few soldiers and civilians, unwilling to stand longer with the 1,500 of the garrison who since 1 p.m. yesterday have been plastered with tons of shells and bombs from artillery massed near the outskirts and clouds of planes roaring over in endless procession.

All day long a German division with 20 to 25 tanks beat without success against American lines north of Aachen, trying to relieve the doomed garrison through a mile-wide corridor between the siege positions.

The assault waves broke in a terrible barrage from American artillery, including 250-mm. and eight-inch guns, which girdle the corridor.

Mikolajczyk At Moscow

Polish Premier in Conference With Eden

MOSCOW, Oct. 12 (P).—Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who flew here today from London with other leaders of the London Polish Government, conferred with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden late today in the initial phase of negotiations for unity between the London and Moscow-sponsored Polish groups.

As Mikolajczyk and Eden conferred, there was general belief that the differences between the Soviet-sponsored Polish Committee of National Liberation and the London Government would be settled some way before Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin close their conferences.

It was understood that the Polish Premier would see the highest Anglo-Soviet leaders before he again met the chief members of the Lublin committee with whom he failed to agree here two months ago.

"M. Mikolajczyk," it was learned, carried no "blank cheque" from his cabinet for negotiations, and even if a provisional agreement is reached at Moscow he must return to London and submit it to his associates for approval. On the other hand, Mr. Churchill is reported to be vigorously determined to see some basis for Polish harmony established before terminating his own visit here.

Asked about the outlook for the reconciliation of a member of the London party said: "We are hopeful."

Both the Algiers and Marshall Tito, leader of the Yugoslav Partisans, also was on his way to Moscow to join in a review of Europe's diplomatic problems. London raised the possibility that formation of a Balkan-Polish federation might be under consideration.

The Russian-sponsored Poles were said to be firm in demanding that the President of Poland be shorn of his powers, the 1935 constitution abandoned, and that the Lublin commander in chief, Col.-Gen. Bilszycki, be made head of the Polish armed forces.

If unity between the factions is achieved, it is believed that Mikolajczyk, in order to become Premier of the Coalition, would have to agree to drop many members of his present Government in London.

Island Objective in New Loan Set at $9,685,000

Vancouver Island's objective in the Seventh Victory Loan is $9,685,000, and of this Greater Victoria is charged with raising $6,180,000. In each case the objective is higher than in the Sixth Victory Loan last spring, but lower than the actual subscriptions.

J. W. Spencer, chairman of the National War Finance Committee for Vancouver Island, announced the quotas yesterday, giving comparisons with the Sixth Loan quotas and results, as follows:

| | 6th Loan | 6th Loan | 7th Loan |
|--|-------------|-------------|-------------|
| | Quota | Results | Quota |
| Greater Victoria | $3,700,000 | $5,367,000 | $6,180,000 |
| Saanich, Esquimalt, Gulf Islands, Ruxton | 750,000 | 961,250 | 850,000 |
| Cowichan District | 725,000 | 770,500 | 725,000 |
| Courtenay-Comox | 500,000 | 537,250 | 540,000 |
| Nanaimo, Qualicum, Parksville | 600,000 | 684,500 | 600,000 |
| Alberni, Port Alice and West Coast | 535,000 | 545,850 | 545,000 |
| Ladysmith | 140,000 | 180,700 | 150,000 |
| Vancouver Island total | $9,000,000 | $9,874,450 | $9,685,000 |

The Vancouver Island total objective is thus $9,685,000 more than in the last campaign, and $399,450 less than actual subscriptions.

Greater Victoria will aim $480,000 higher than it did in the last loan, but its quota is still $87,500 under results. Saanich, Esquimalt, Gulf Islands and rural have a quota money in the country than ever, and bank deposits are higher than last year.

France to Help In Pacific War

PARIS, Oct. 12 (P).—France is going to fight alongside the Allies in the Pacific war not only for the liberation of Indo-China but until Japan is vanquished, Colonies Minister Rene Pleven told a press conference today.

country's second largest city of Rotterdam.
Roads south and east of Rotterdam were clogged with German transport, a front dispatch said, indicating the Germans were preparing to pull out of Northwestern Holland or were shifting the bulk of their estimated 150,000 garrison southward to meet the Canadian and British forces.

In favor of the theory that they were being called home for the final battles inside Germany was the discovery that the Germans had abandoned abruptly a bridgehead 12 miles wide on the south bank of the Neder Rhine between Arnhem and Rotterdam.

Canadian forces keeping up the pressure on this German force from the south, poured reinforcements into their widening beachhead on the south side of the Scheldt Estuary west of Antwerp and to the east fought within two miles of the enemy base of Bergen op Zoom, 19 miles north of Antwerp.

From their beachhead they were closing on Breskens, five miles west of their landings near the village of Houtplaat. Breskens lies across the estuary from Vlissingen (Flushing), where German defences blocking the use of the port of Antwerp are concentrated.

A high ranking officer of the United States First Army said nothing had come through the narrow corridor northeast of Aachen "in any size in any direction." He added: "Certainly the Germans have not and are not evacuating Aachen."

GREATEST BATTLE ON WESTERN FRONT

The German radio, still pledging resistance to the death, described the Aachen action as "the greatest battle ever fought on the Western Front."

An Associated Press correspondent, William S. White, reported from outside Aachen that infantry with rifles and grenades cleared the Germans from the factory suburb of Schlachthof on the northeast and were harassed only by the sporadic fire of snipers.

But American commanders held their troops back from the big assault on the main section of this city at the frontier of Germany while for the second day the big guns ringing Aachen poured in cascades of steel and bombers struck in waves at 15-minute intervals.

The enemy garrison, under Hitler's orders to stand and die, covered with from 5,000 to 10,000 civilians in the ancient caves, basements and sewers of this city which Charlemagne made the seat of empire.

The German military commentator, Capt. Ludwig Bertorius, speculated tonight that the British Second Army soon would join the American First in the eastward push into Germany and that Gen. Eisenhower might unhook a new invasion "either from the air or sea."

Gen. Eisenhower renewed a warning two days ago that all North Sea shipping would be subjected to air attack to prevent German reinforcements from leaving Norway.

Seriousness declared that the British army was waiting only for the Canadian First Army on the west flank to pull up into Holland along a line stretching from Breda eastward through Tilburg and Herengracht.

The Germans on the Islands of Walcheren and South Beveland in the Scheldt Estuary to the north virtually were cut off by land by the Canadian army force driving on Bergen op Zoom, and fresh R.A.F. bombings of the dikes left the island of Walcheren two-thirds flooded.

The British Second Army attacked sharply on the southern flank of its front facing the German frontier along the Maas (Meuse) River in Eastern Holland, driving the enemy back a mile on a front of a little more than a mile near Overloon before the surprised foe brought up mortars and artillery.

The United States Third Army in Northern France slugged it out with counter-attacking Germans north of Nancy and at Maizières-Les-Metz, six miles north of Metz, where the enemy had converted basements into anti-tank nests.

The United States Seventh Army on the southern end of the 460-mile front repulsed counter-blows around Le Thillot, 15 miles north of Belfort, and made limited advances through the foothills of the Vosges Mountains north of that strategic doorway to the Southern Rhineland.

Most significant was the capture of the village of Sapok, 13 miles west of Schleith Pass, one of four main gaps through the Vosges. Schleith Pass is 28 miles north of the gap at Belfort.

Missing Flyers All In Royal Air Force

VANCOUVER, Oct. 12 (AP)—Western Air Command announced today that 11 airmen killed when a bomber crashed October 4 on Salt Spring Island, 30 miles southwest of Vancouver, were members of the Royal Air Force. Previously eight were listed as missing as only three bodies were found in the bomber wreckage.

Next of kin have been notified and the names will be released shortly.

Italy Will Map Own Destiny After War, Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt said tonight that when the Allies complete military operations in Italy the Italians "will be free to work out their own destiny, under a government of their own choice."

In an address broadcast from the White House, Mr. Roosevelt said the United States Army entered Italy "not as conquerors, but as liberators. Their objective is military, not political."

The President's address was directed to the meeting of the Italian-American Labor Council in New York in acceptance of the council's Four Freedoms Award granted to the President.

"Of course, the people of Italy have suffered terribly and it will not be humanly possible to take wholly adequate measures to relieve all suffering until Germany has been finally defeated," Mr. Roosevelt said.

"But the United Nations are determined that every possible measure be taken to aid the Italian people directly, and to give them an opportunity to help themselves."

He said Prime Minister Churchill agreed fully with this position.

In New York, Attorney-General Francis M. Biddle presented the Four Freedoms award with the declaration that President Roosevelt maintained "his faith in the Italian soul" even when Italy under "captivity by the lackey Fascists" was brought into war against the United States.

"Long, long after Mussolini is only a half-forgotten nightmare," Mr. Biddle declared, "American and Italian scholars will be discussing their two great common heritages—the principles of Columbus, navigator; and of Roosevelt, liberator."

Biddle said it was the President's "settled determination to bring the provisions of the Atlantic Charter to bear upon Italy's problems."

Mr. Roosevelt's address was his second of the day in which he spoke in warm terms of Italy.

At 4 o'clock he received chiefs of diplomatic missions from the other American republics on the occasion of Columbus Day. Addressing them and an all-network radio audience, Mr. Roosevelt recalled the millions of Italians who have followed Columbus to the Western World.

"This is one of the many reasons why the forces of liberation have been welcomed so cordially by the Italian people after 22 years of Fascism," he said.

The President emphasized that aviation has narrowed the margin between the Old World and the New.

"This means, he said, that if we do not now take effective measures to prevent another world war and if there were to be a third world war, the lands of the Western Hemisphere would be as vulnerable to attack from Europe and Asia as were the island of Crete and the Philippine Islands five years ago."

Large Drumhead Service Planned

Plans for a large drumhead service at Beacon Hill Park on the afternoon of October 22—the Seventh Victory Loan dedication service in which the public and the three armed services will participate—were brought close to the final stage yesterday afternoon by the Public Relations Committee in charge. Final details will be arranged within the next few days.

Hon. W. C. Woodward, Lieutenant-Governor, had accepted an invitation to attend and to take the salute from the services when they march past at the close of the service. It was reported. Invitations have been extended also to Premier John Hart, to civic heads and to others.

Each of the three services is making its plans for participation and civilian clergy are arranging the actual ceremony.

It was also reported that arrangements for the industrial parade, showing Greater Victoria's contribution to the war effort, were advancing. Seven thousand men are being invited to participate, and industrial and business firms will be asked to prepare floats.

Newspaper photos will be taken of the parade and distributed nationally.

Announcement was made that the R.C.A.F. is preparing an elaborate display of planes, equipment and photos, to last a week. Participation by the army and navy is also being arranged.

Displays in store windows of honor rolls of men on active service, and as many photographs as possible, are planned.

Plastic Industry Has Big Future

Plastics will have a big place in postwar industry but will not put metals and wood out of business, E. Savannah, professor at Victoria College, told Kinsmen at their regular dinner meeting last night in the Empress Hotel.

A wealth of timber products in British Columbia would be the basis for a thriving plastic industry on the Pacific Coast, he said. Plastics of the cellulose type could profitably be made here from waste wood materials and ethyl, and processed wood could also be supplied to industry in other parts of Canada.

In addition the phenol type of plastics, including bakelite, would be possible if a steel industry were developed, but would be impractical if coal were to be imported solely for the manufacture of plastics.

The bottleneck of the plastic industry at present was the lack of skilled mould makers. "The mould maker is the most important man in plastics and often is the forgotten man. His work requires time and skill and education," Mr. Savannah stated.

The Greater Victoria introduced the speaker, and Hugh Francis moved the vote of thanks. George Fatt, president, was chairman.

City Police Court

Appearing on remand for sentence after pleading guilty to two charges of housebreaking, James Alexander Whitley was sentenced to five years' imprisonment on each charge, the terms to run concurrently by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday.

Pleading guilty to a charge of dangerous driving on the Gorge Road on October 3, Frederick G. Jarvis, a naval rating, was fined $30.

Mother Must Face Trial

Mrs. Edith May Cruickshank, in city police court yesterday, heard Magistrate H. C. Hall commit her to stand trial on a charge of murdering Patricia Margaret, her seven-year-old daughter, whose body was found in the water off Dallas Road on the morning of September 25.

Stuart Henderson, defence counsel, reserved his defence.

Detective H. F. Jarvis, who with Detective L. Callon laid the murder charge on the day the child's body was found, testified that Mrs. Cruickshank said at that time: "May the Lord forgive me. He drove me to it." Earlier, Detective Jarvis said she told him: "My husband drove me to it."

Policewoman Alice Pye said that Mrs. Cruickshank got up to leave the charge office, and she told her she had better sit down. The accused woman obeyed and started to cry, saying: "I do not care what happens—give me paper and pencil."

Before writing, Miss Pye recalled the accused stated: "This will bring disgrace on my husband, and also on my parents."

Miss Pye testified Mrs. Cruickshank said: "I cut the little girl and myself with the scissors; they were not sharp enough."

Mrs. Cruickshank complained of feeling cold at 4 o'clock, Miss Pye testified. She asked the accused: "Why are you cold?" and received the answer: "I walked into the water up to my waist."

At the station, Detective Jarvis said he saw the accused at the witness stand, asked her name, and received the reply: "I am Mrs. Cruickshank. My husband drove me to it."

DETECTIVE RECALLS
REMARKS TO ACCUSED

"I said to her: 'Have you a little girl?' She said: 'Yes. Have you found the body?' I said: 'Now this is serious. Do not say any more just now. Come in here,' the detective recalled.

Detective Jarvis testified that he conducted further investigations and then returned to see the accused again. He asked her if she wished to make a statement, and she answered: "What! Drag my husband's name in the gutter. I do not know what to do."

Sister Mary Bridget, of St. Ann's Academy, testified that Mrs. Cruickshank came to the convent on the morning of September 25 and asked if she could take "Patsy" Cruickshank to town to buy her a pair of shoes.

The sister said that she never saw the child or the mother again.

John M. S. Loubser, Prince Rupert, told of seeing the body floating in the water off Dallas Road at 10:45 o'clock in the morning of September 25. He said he called Mrs. Eva Irene Warren—1244 Dallas Road, who notified the police.

Constables Richard Cuppitt and moved the body. They applied artificial respiration as the limbs were still supple and the flesh soft, Constable Cuppitt testified.

The fire department inhalator crew was called. Dr. E. L. McEwen said he pronounced life extinct after examining the body on the beach.

Other witnesses included Sister Mary Ludovick, Sergeant R. Woolsey, Constable G. Buckle, Dr. J. H. Moore, Miss Grace Grant, Mrs. Marjorie Steiner, Charles de Lure, W. Findell, Mrs. Eva Irene Warren and Detective L. Callon.

Principles of Rotary Given

"A Challenge to Rotary" was the subject of an address given by J. V. Jenkinson, Minto New Toronto Club, at a Rotary Club luncheon yesterday at the Empress Hotel.

The speaker based his findings for the cause of world trouble on misunderstanding, which, he asserted, was the root of all trouble. Mr. Jenkinson believed the panacea was to be found in the application of Rotary principles.

"Live the Rotary way, and be a more useful citizen. The Rotary motto, 'Service Above Self,' if lived seven days a week would set a great example. With 250,000 members throughout the world, Rotary could be a tremendous power, the speaker emphasized.

Quoting from a past president's speech, Mr. Jenkinson gave the ideals of Rotary, the letters representing R, for the Golden Rule utilized centuries as the basis for ethical codes; O, for others, or ourselves; with the advice to fit ourselves to serve easily; T, for tolerance, the backbone of Rotary, which should be exhibited in all departments of life, political, social, business and personal; A, attendance, essential in the rules of Rotary; R, righteousness, which might be compared to service; Y, you, and yours truly, for the speaker contended, the greatest Rotary work was accomplished by individual members, thus bringing the responsibility home to yours truly.

Tom Meyers introduced the speaker, who was thanked by Colin T. Martin, chairman.

Two new members, Earl C. Pollock and Dr. E. A. Watson, V.S., F.R.C.S., were elected.

The Fighting Forces Goes East on Duty

COM. WTR. G. E. WOODFORD
Of 1230 Bewdley Avenue, Esquimalt, who has returned to an appointment in the East after spending leave from overseas with his wife, Jean, and their four children. In the R.C.N. since 1928, he served on every Canadian destroyer prior to the outbreak of war and since that time has served in naval establishments on both coasts before appointment overseas aboard H.M.C.S. Niobe and bases in Northern Ireland.

Flight Commander
The Titer Squadron's new flight commander is Sgd. Ldr. Norfian Loudoun, 22 son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Loudoun, 2455 Dalhousie Street. With the R.C.A.F. since March, 1941, he has been overseas since April, 1943, and has almost completed his tour of operations, according to letters received by relatives. The former Times newspaperman has two brothers in the services, Wilson in the R.C.N.V.R., and Morris with the air force.

Writes From Italy
"There are tough-looking Jerry paratroopers coming along the road," writes Sgd. Hugh O'Neill, 1st Canadian Corps, R.C.O.C., from Italy. "They are prisoners, but as tough and arrogant looking as ever. They are fanatics living on war, and show no mercy for man, woman or child."

"At the moment of writing a battle is in progress; from this position it is just like a huge fireworks display." Writing of the men of the Allied forces, Sgt. O'Neill tells of the French Goums, the majority of whom have huge red beards, and of the famed Gurkhas from India, Poles, Canadians and British, of whom he says: "They are good fighters, and can hold their own anywhere, with anyone, and at any time."

Born in Ireland, Sgt. O'Neill was employed at the Outer Wharf prior to his enlistment in 1939. He has been overseas since March, 1940.

Air Force Graduate
P.O. Donald Knight, formerly of Victoria, whose parents now reside in Burnaby, is home on leave after being graduated as a wireless air gunner. He received his education at Monterey School and at Oak Bay.

Seeks Trade Board Gathering in City

G. Morton Ferguson, Vancouver, vice-president of the Association of Junior Boards of Trade of Canada, said here yesterday that he has been pressing to have Victoria named the city for next year's annual convention of the national body. Formed in 1936, the association has not yet

Mr. Ferguson expected to have word of a decision within the next month. Edmonton was the only other city named for the convention, he said.

Immediate past president of Van-

Recent army enlistments from Victoria and district included: Robert R. Prior, 2551 Dalhousie Road; Arthur G. Gerber, 1334 Merritt Street; Kenneth D. Pankhurst, 184 No. 2; Anthony P. Pankhurst, 184 Robertson Street; Murray Russell, 253 Transit Road; Hayward I. Cunningham, 829 Island Road, and James H. Woodend, R.R. No. 3.

Up-Island recruits were: Ivan Brown, Nanaimo; Walter J. Burgess, Saanichton; and Harold E. Nunn, Sidney.

There was also one C.W.A.C. enlistment, Jean L. Simmons, Chemist, and one "H.D." man from a local unit went active.

Reported Missing
L.S. Daniel Reid, 24, R.C.N., has been reported missing following action overseas, according to word his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Reid, 2750 Heron Street, have received. He was serving aboard H.M.C.S. Chebogue, a frigate. An ex-pupil of Willows School, he was employed with B.A. Paint Co. Ltd. here before he was called with the 2nd Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, reserves at the outbreak of war.

With the regiment six months, he later transferred to the navy. His wife, May, and baby son, David Norman, live at Halifax.

Use Salvage
A diving raft on the waterfront property of the Colwood R.C.A.F. Convalescent Home, Langford Lake, has been constructed from a collection of odds and ends supplied to the camp by the Salvage Corps. A railing for the raft is now being constructed from a supply of pipe on hand and other articles of salvage are being ingeniously utilized throughout the camp.

Sgd. Ldr. L. O. Bradley, O.C. of the hospital, sent a warm letter of thanks to Salvage Corps officials for the material. The material was obtained through efforts of the Welcome Club.

Home From Australia
Capt. Thomas E. Baylis, King's Own Rifle of Canada, has returned from service in Australia and New Guinea for leave with his wife and son, 1029 McClure Street. While in the South Pacific, Captain Baylis sustained injuries to his left arm.

Former Governor Dies
CHARLOTTETOWN, Oct. 12 (CP).—Hon. Murdoch MacKinnon, 79, former Lieutenant-Governor of Prince Edward Island, died here today after several years of poor health. He was lieutenant-governor from 1919 until 1924. Previously he was a Conservative member of the Island Legislature from 1897 to 1911, and Commissioner—equivalent to minister—of Agriculture from 1911 until 1919.

At the Theatres
Anne Shirley in Dominion Comedy
One of the most entertaining pictures in a long time is R.K.O. Radio's "Music in Manhattan," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre with Anne Shirley, Dennis Day and Philip Terry as its romantic featured triangle, and with some of the season's catchiest tunes.

It's upsetting for any engaged girl to find that a self-appointed husband has moved into her apartment and refuses to leave—and it's distressing to her fiancé, too. But that's what happens to a couple of young players trying to make their musical revue a success before they get married.

All this provides plenty of hilarity as the plot unfolds.

ATLAS With its home both timely and funny, Warner Bros. newest comedy, "Make Your Own Bed," is now at the Atlas Theatre. The subject is the shortage of domestic help so much in evidence since the start of the war. Jane Wymann co-stars with Jack Carson and Irene Manning in this sprightly comedy of domesticity.

CADET One of the tenderest, romantic comedies of recent months is now showing at the Cadet Theatre. The film is M-G-M's "Lost Angel," starring Margaret O'Brien, the youngster who made such a sensational impact of American movie-going audiences in "Journey for Margaret," with James Craig and Martha Hunt.

CAPITOL "Home in Indiana," Theatre now at the Capitol Theatre, tells of spirited youth, lovely women, fast homes and proud men against the brilliantly colorful background of county fairs and the great "apple pie" country in dazzling beautiful Technicolor.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA Theatres Maughan's "Christmas Holiday," Deanna Durbin's current Universal picture now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres is a distinct departure from anything the lovely star has done in the past. It is a highly dramatic film. Her co-star is Gene Kelly, and although he began his film career as a dancer, in "Christmas Holiday," he doesn't dance at all, his role being as dramatic as Deanna's.

RIO Russell Hayden is seen in one of his typical roles of outfighting and outsmarting a double-crossing outfit of landgrabbers in Columbia's new Western, "The Last Horseman," now at the Rio Theatre. It combines a series of thrills, songs and laughs which include "Lucky," Russell Hayden and his cowboy marauding as women.

YORK Creation of "story tell-theatre" ing dance routines for the color production, "Nothing Sacred," now at the York Theatre, was placed in the hands of Dave Gould, film Academy award winner, by David O. Selznick. The picture, co-starring Carole Lombard and Fredric March, has New York and its gay night spots for a background. These places of fun and revelry in keeping with the swift-moving humor of the story, were filmed by Gould.

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
A.E. WALSHADY

Japanese reports of a massive United States carrier-based plane raid along the west coast of Formosa, within a scant 100 miles of the Chinese mainland coast, touched off Tokyo predictions of follow-up landing operations, although they went unconfirmed from any American source.

There seemed no reason to doubt that Formosa, capstone of the Nipponese China Sea conquest arch, had been brought under fire for the first time by American bomber fleets, whether the enemy estimate of 1,000 planes involved is accurate or not.

It is a fair deduction that whatever else the bombing of the whole sweep of the Ryukyu Island chain, stretching from the southern tip of Japan proper to Formosa, and then Formosa itself was designed to accomplish, hope of locating the main Japanese fleet and bringing it to decisive action went far to inspire the move. If any substantial part of enemy naval strength has been lighted on its hide-out located, there has been no word of it in American official reports or press advices from the Pacific.

In view of authoritative disclosure that the Pacific offensive has out-paced most optimistic Allied hopes by many weeks or months, it is doubtful that the far-ranging operations in the East China Sea imply any immediate move to follow through with landings. Distances are still too great for that.

Given Wage Boost
VANCOUVER, Oct. 12 (CP).—City Council has approved an increase in the wages of outside civic employees of 35 cents a day for men paid less than 90 cents an hour, and 20 cents a day for those drawing 90 cents or more.

Through Agent David Rees, employees replied they would accept the offered raise instead of the 15 per cent general increase they had asked on the understanding that the whole wage question be taken into consideration before the next civic budget is brought down.

Pressure Mounting

Germany's position in the war is that of a nut in the nutcracker. She has no place to go, and the pressure which one day will crack her last frontiers is being built up by the United Nations methodically and steadily on every side. Nor can Germany, impotent at sea and well nigh so in the air, interfere with this progression, which from here on will be a mathematical one. General Eisenhower pointed that out yesterday in Great Britain, speaking of the Western Front. The same is true of the Eastern Front, where Russia is bringing her main forces into play. At the moment Germany is being driven in the south, herded back within her own borders. Then the greatest pincer movement of the war, and perhaps of modern history, will commence. The handles of the nutcracker will be drawn together until the nut cracks.

Seen so, the swift movement of Russian forces through the Balkans, steady progress made by the Western Nations in Italy, Southern France and Greece, and the mopping up of German garrisons throughout the western seaboard in Europe, are correlated and all precedent to the main assault upon the Reich. The United Nations, as a whole, are making a thorough job of it. Without taking undue risks they are forcing the pace, and not for a moment removing the pressure which now surrounds the enemy upon nearly every side. Each day, in fact, that pressure somewhere is being increased; in the West today, in the South yesterday, perhaps in the East tomorrow. Germany is ringed, and knows it. The encirclement that Hitler spoke of with his tongue in his cheek has come to pass.

We must expect—and indeed we are hearing now—the grand squal. No bully yet was overthrown without his protestations of brotherly love and innocence; no thief yet caught red-handed without his plea that it was all a mistake. There are rumors from Sweden for every second of the day. "Soft peace" proposals emanate too easily from many quarters of the globe. We are told we must modify the terms of unconditional surrender. We would need to have all of our heads examined if we do. Germany must be defeated in fact, and acknowledge that defeat before a wronged and blighted world. If we are ever inclined to waver there, let us consider what Germany's terms would have been had she won. They are written in Hitler's little book, the German best seller of his day.

Practical Step

The action of the Provincial Government in setting $20,000 aside for the purchase of an X-ray-therapy unit for the British Columbia Cancer Institute is a forward step. While science has made only disappointing headway against cancer, save in its detection, there are a wide variety of cases that are reported to yield to electrical treatment in the manner mentioned, particularly where the affection is local and in its incipient stages. There are instances, too, where the application of X-rays has been beneficial in treating deep-seated growths that cannot be reached in any other manner. The new equipment, when installed, should prove useful and of practical assistance in what is being done.

Developments in the last few years in cancer research have tended to remove some of the shibboleths which once blocked progress in that inquiry. While it can scarcely be said that science has found a cure, or even that it yet knows the exact nature of the disease, a good deal of error and misconception have been laid aside. Progress has been made in acquainting the public with the importance of regular physical check-ups. Probably a higher percentage of cases than formerly are being detected at earlier stages, and the means of detection themselves have been vastly improved. With that, for the moment, we must be content.

There is still a good deal of educational work to be done before physicians or surgeons will be satisfied that the public is making the best use of man's present state of knowledge of the disease. But, in some part at least, the old fear of cancer gradually is being removed, and a saner and truer perspective is taking its place. Science and skill can do much today that yesterday would have proved impossible. Research is continuing constantly, all over the world; and some day it is not too much to hope that man may win here, too, a long and desperate battle.

Canada's Knitting

It is one effect of war that every citizen becomes world-minded, sometimes to the exclusion of his own particular business. By and large, the people at home have followed the fighting men at the front in their thoughts so constantly that it requires an effort of will to bring their minds back to this country. To a greater or lesser degree, everyone has been affected in that manner, leaving a great national absent-mindedness in places where today there is need of close and practical thinking. Canada will see the peace, and will have to make her way in it, too.

What one would like to see at this stage of the conflict is a definite start made towards unwinding the red-tape which has been wrapped about the business and social structure of this land. The days are coming when citizens will not be picked up in Halifax, transported to Winnipeg, "relayed" to Toronto, sent west to Vancouver, and finally put to work in Ottawa. The time is close when business, in place of meeting fixed Government orders, will have to cater once more to public demand. New schools, new hospitals, new churches, new homes cannot be put off forever. The vast army of quasi-civil servants—and how uncommonly uncivil some of them have been—must one day stand again upon their own two feet. In short, even global wars come to an end, and the end of this one is coming into sight.

There is no suggestion here that because Canada needs to look to her own knitting that she must either neglect or be unkind to the world. Indeed, circumstances will force that attention in any event. On the other hand, there are things to be done in Canada if the peace is to be something more than confusion and a very painful nightmare all around. We have looked to the Federal Administration to show some sign that these ports are recognized and appreciated; and, so far, we have looked in vain. The chief anxiety on Parliament Hill still seems to be when will a Federal general election be safe and profitable, politically speaking. Is it not high time that Canada picked up a dropped stitch or two, in preparation for the day when her knitting exclusively will be her task, with no one else to do it? No one in their right mind believes that wartime controls will serve for peacetime business; or that the haphazard social plans of today can be perpetuated, or would be effective even if they could. This is a free land, not an autocracy.

The Gulf Islands

The islets in the Gulf of Georgia are known throughout most of the world for their beauty, their abiding peace and their many individual and unrepeatable charms. It is less generally known that they are in some instances practical farming areas, wherein the yields and the quality of the various crops stand on a footing of their own. Their universal need, it seems to us, is wise counselling and help in establishing home and export markets. For it is in the Gulf Islands that neglect stares every Canadian Department of Agriculture concerned in the face.

Salt Spring Island found and made its own butter market years ago, putting out a product that topped the British Columbia list in quality. Tree fruits, vegetables, poultry and livestock have at many times been produced in shipping quantities, but for one reason or another, the Gulf Islands have not been able to—or is it that they have not been permitted to—secure a regular footing in the main British Columbia markets. Transportation is often argued as the reason, but one feels that it is only an excuse.

Both the Dominion and the Province of British Columbia must be aware of the facts. Their agricultural agents must know the condition that exists on most of the Gulf Islands today. It is one where orchards groan under unpicked fruit; where settlers are often discouraged by repeated rebuffs; where, in place of the much that could be made available for market, a mere trickle actually reaches the consumers of this province or of any other province in Canada. It is high time that steps be taken to remedy at least the worst anomalies of this condition. It can be done, and that was the precise pledge made to settlers on the Islands many years ago. In long hope they have held on.

Seen in Passing

Whether Canada adopts the plan or not, nearly every country in the United Nations will have conscription after this war, if for no other reason than to insure replacement of battle veterans in the armies of occupation. No men are going to fight five or more years through this war and remain on in Europe after the war doing police work. The veterans will want to come home, and that, moreover, will be their right.

It is innocence that blanches at the sight of the law. The sneak thief walks by a policeman without turning a hair, perhaps even wondering if he has anything of value in his blue pockets. The honest man asks himself, inevitably, if his car is parked correctly, if his trousers should really have those cuffs, or if the tie packaged in his hand is quite legal, seeing that he got it from a relative—who never can remember which coupons work and which are worthless. Oblivious to both, the policeman walks his beat, pondering on the strange tendency of time to slow down towards the end of his particular watch.

Sonnet

When I do count the clock that tells the time,
And see the brave day sun in hideous night;
When I behold the violet past prime,
And sable curls all silver'd o'er with white;
When lofty trees I see barren of leaves,
Which erst from heat did canopy the herd,
And Summer's green all gilded up in sheaves,
Borne on the bier with white and bristly beard,
Then of thy beauty do I question make,
That thou among the wastes of time must go,
Since sweets and beauties do themselves forsake
And die as fast as they see others grow;
And nothing 'gainst Time's scythe can make defence.
Save breed, to brave him when he takes thee hence.

—SHAKESPEARE.

Observation Car

By G.R.

A criminologist claimed that few men commit crimes after eating a hearty meal. That is what saves the life of many an after-dinner speaker. . . . Bombs with a large spike attached are used in Burma to blast enemy-held railway tracks. The spike prevents the tendency of a bomb to skip and explode wide of the mark. . . . Diamonds weighing from one-twentieth to six carats are used in airplane factories to grind metals and resurface grinding wheels. . . . If some reformers had their way, the world would be a better, not better, place. . . . Two tourists putting away their car for the night in a James Bay garage engaged the friendly attendant in conversation. After talking about Roosevelt and Dewey, one of them said: "Too bad there is a boundary between our two great countries." The garage man scratched his head and commented: "Yes, it should be all Canada." . . . Horses are rated as the most clever animals. Not long ago two visitors from Winnipeg took a saddle horse to a pasture in Esquimalt and arrived home two hours later after stopping in the city. Much to their amazement the horse was waiting for them. He had found his way back to Oak Bay, although the route was unfamiliar. . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, is usually equal to any occasion. Yesterday a pedlar sidled into the shop and tried to sell a household gadget. "There are some things that go without saying," he declared, describing the merits of the article. "There are others that say a lot without going," Bill retorted.

Russian Drive

South of the Danube River in Yugoslavia, the Russians were closing steadily on Belgrade from the south and east after crossing the Morava River and severing the Belgrade-Athens rail route. Besides taking Smederevo, on the south bank of the Danube 23 miles from the capital, one column captured Dobruva, 37 miles south of the capital.

A communique from Marshal Tito's headquarters said the combined Yugoslav-Russian forces had split the Germans in Serbia into two segments, pressing seven Axis divisions back against the Danube and cutting off 16 divisions of perhaps 160,000 men in the Lower Balkans.

Although the Russians did not announce any gains along the Czechoslovakian-Polish border north of Hungary, the Czechoslovak Press Bureau in London said that its troops attached to Gen. Ivan Petrov's Fourth Ukrainian Army had liberated its first homeland community, Vysok Komarnok, a mile inside Czechoslovakia through the Dukla Pass.

Canadians

It proved valuable as a killing ground. Fifteen hundred Germans of the 5,000 in the Scheldt pocket have been wiped out. This pocket, south of the estuary, now is being slowly folded up and the Germans, seeing disaster ahead, are believed to have begun evacuation.

North of Antwerp, the Canadians swung along the other side of the Scheldt and probed along the estuary leading to South Beveland Island on the north side of the estuary. Beveland will have to be cleared of its 4,000 Germans and then there will be Walcheren Island on the north of the river mouth, just west of Beveland. There are 11,000 Germans on Walcheren, the lowlands of which are rapidly being inundated as the dikes are blown out by R.A.P. Bomber Command.

The big squeeze play on both sides of the Scheldt is on. It is a battle of canals, of dike crossings, of advances through flooded areas and over dead flat land where there is no ground for artillery operation. Tanks cannot be used. It comes down to company against company, platoon against platoon, man against man.

CANADIAN TROOPS CLOSE IN SLOWLY

WITH THE CANADIAN FIRST ARMY IN HOLLAND, Oct. 12 (CP).—(From Alan Randall).—Canadian troops closed in slowly tonight against the Germans in their three-pronged drive to clear the enemy from positions in and south of the Scheldt estuary.

Ontario troops, on the eastern arm of the drive three back six enemy counter-attacks launched at their positions on the neck of the estuary linking South Beveland Island with the mainland of Holland. These counter-blows were launched by 200 German paratroopers holding defences northwest of Hooger-Heide, 15 miles north of Antwerp.

Other Ontario and Maritime detachments in their sector 36 miles to the west extended the size of their backdoor bridgehead on the south side of the Scheldt Estuary against fierce resistance.

They registered advances from 1,000 to 2,000 yards along the perimeter of their bridgehead during the last 24 hours. From the Leopold Canal sector, hemming in the Germans on the south side of their holdings south of the Scheldt, there was an unconfirmed report that Western infantry have advanced westward several hundred yards. The immediate objective of the foothold across the canal is The Netherlands town of Aardenburg.

The advance from the beachhead established on the Scheldt tonight placed Ontario Infantry solidly in and south of Biervliet, three miles south and slightly east of Hoofddijk, but there was hard fighting before Biervliet was captured. Maritime formations were driving southwest in the centre of the beachhead and to the north, Ontario troops have advanced around and beyond Hoofddijk.

Ontario troops reported there were German patrols which seemed to be probing to locate a way north to the Scheldt coast but it was added if the Germans are hunting a way out it is only because they want to fight again somewhere else.

The attack on Biervliet went in Wednesday afternoon. By the evening the town was "loosely held" night after a stout counter-attack was beaten off.

"It cost the Germans plenty," said Major Phil Strickland, of Saskatoon. "The counter-attack was partially successful since the Germans got into the southern extremity of Biervliet, but we stopped them cold." Major Strickland said: "They are amazing, these Germans. They fight right to the end and don't seem to care if they get killed or not." They have been identified as members of the German 64th Division.

Germans, contained by a 29-mile ring around Dunkerque, meanwhile, were coming out in a series of strong night forays in which they made small local gains which the Canadian First Army troops erase in daylight.

The Germans also are flooding sections around Dunkerque and seem to have a good stock of supplies and ammunition there.

On the front north of Antwerp, Canadian infantry and tanks met tough resistance from battle groups of Germans who are making every effort to block the advance toward Bergen on Zoom, four miles north of the Canadian line across the causeway leading to South Beveland Island.

Hoogerheide still is being heavily shelled and mortared by Germans. Canadian forces have not pushed out far along the causeway but the opposition there seems less severe than that facing them on the roads leading to Bergen on Zoom.

Germans in this sector all have been alerted by their officers on the importance of delaying the opening of the port of Antwerp by holding up the Canadians wherever they can. Enemy soldiers are told that once the port is open the Allies will be able to go ahead with their "nefarious plans."

The Squid, built at Vancouver in 1902, was 72 feet long and had a gross tonnage of 60 tons. She was operated in recent years by Frank Waterhouse & Company of Canada, Ltd., Vancouver. Her value was estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000. The cargo was understood to be insured.

HARMLESS AT BOTTOM OF GULF
VANCOUVER, Oct. 12 (CP).—All dynamite aboard the freighter Squid which was rammed and sunk by a Canadian Pacific Steamships passenger vessel, the St. Princess Joan, five miles off the mouth of the Fraser River today, is safe and harmless at the bottom of the Gulf of Georgia, Cmdr. J. M. Smith, of the Naval Control Office, said tonight.

There was no danger of any of the boxes of dynamite floating onto city beaches or into the flanks of other boats, Cmdr. Smith said, commenting on earlier reports that sailors and persons frequenting beaches had been warned about the dynamite menace.

"The dynamite would sink very quickly after the collision and now is safe at the bottom of the gulf," he said. "We are not putting on any special patrol."

Underwriters for the sunken Squid would be responsible for raising the explosive cargo and by the time it is raised it would be rendered impotent by the action of sea water.

Mikolajewski's invitation to join the Moscow discussions. The Premier's visit has the approval of the four political parties constituting the Polish Government in London.

Dealing editorially with the caution shown in the public reaction towards the Dumbarton Oaks Conference proposals for world security, the Times suggested that notice has been given to the proposed economic and social council which is to work side by side with the Security Council.

A widespread breakdown of the economic system, failure of purchasing power and the scourge of mass unemployment, says The Times, were beyond doubt the main causes of the disaster that has overtaken the world.

It is these deeper causes of war that the new economic council will attempt to deal with.

Terrorist outrages in Palestine, caused by Jews who want to achieve political aims by force, are hindering the war against Hitler, says an official statement issued in Jerusalem, according to The Times 29th-renewed there.

The head of the Palestine Civil Government and military chiefs alike call on the Jewish community to eradicate present evils and bring about the arrest of the assassins.

During the trial of the Bank of Italy Governor, Azolini, evidence showed Mussolini, since his downfall, had ordered the payment of 10,000,000 lira from Government accounts to Vittorio Mussolini, the Dictator's son. Azolini approved the payment.

Bulgaria Acts

LONDON, Oct. 13 (Friday) (CP).

The Moscow radio carried a Bulgarian announcement early today that Bulgaria's troops and administrative officials have been withdrawn from Greek territory. It concluded with Allied demands established as a preliminary to armistice negotiations.

While there was no specific mention of evacuation of Yugoslav territory—another Allied stipulation—the broadcast said Premier Simon Georgiev of Bulgaria had agreed to all the conditions set forth by the Allies.

Georgiev, in a note to the Russian commander in Sofia, Marshal Fedor I. Tolbukhin, said: "The evacuation of Bulgarian troops from Greek territory was undertaken October 10 by decision of the Council of Ministers and the evacuation of the officials and transfer of administrative power to the local population was begun much earlier."

"The Bulgarian civil and military authorities will co-operate to the full with the military mission which is being sent by the Allied Governments to check up and inaugurate operations for the fulfillment of this evacuation."

Declines Comment

Declining comment until such time as he had fully studied the plan, Mayor Andrew McGavin said yesterday that he would follow with interest proposals reported to be advanced by Mayor J. W. Cornett, Vancouver, for the application of an increment tax on profitable real estate sales to raise funds for a civic auditorium in that city.

Before Victoria could take similar steps to those proposed at Vancouver, it would be necessary for the city to secure legislative action through a special act or an amendment to the Municipal Act. E. L. Shaw, city solicitor, said. He added that the tax would be difficult to apply in view of the question of values, improvements and profits entailed.

Thomas Critical Of School System

Criticism of British Columbia's educational system and an outline of changes proposed by the C.C.F. were contained in an address last night by Dr. J. M. Thomas, principal of Mount View High School, and C.C.F. nominee in Nanaimo Federal Riding.

Addressing a gathering in the C.C.F. Hall, Pandora Avenue, he declared: "We have in British Columbia as fine a philosophy of education for democracy as anywhere in the British Commonwealth, but in practice we have in Canada and in British Columbia one of the most obsolete systems."

"The system is neither democratic, nor does it educate for democracy," he charged.

Absence of a broad choice of subjects in most centres meant "a tremendous wastage of human talent," he asserted. "We must build curricula to suit the needs and talents of the pupil," he asserted.

The traditional Canadian system of educational administration was inefficient, he said. Alberta had taken a forward step by creating large school districts.

Low pay for teachers meant that few of the brightest students would take up teaching. The provinces and the Dominion would have to take over a larger portion of educational finance. He declared that the population between Royal Oak and Hillside Avenue was large enough to deserve its own junior high school and technical facilities, but a municipal boundary was in the way.

Mrs. Percy Rayment told of poverty of housing in Canada and said the C.C.F. proposed a Federal housing board to work with the provinces and municipalities in planning improvement.

NO TYPHOID IN SAANICH

Child patients affected with typhoid and under treatment at the Isolation Hospital did not contract the disease in Saanich although they entered hospital from that district. Dr. J. L. Oatton, medical health officer, said the children had arrived in Saanich only a day or two before symptoms of the disease were noticed and had been in other municipalities previously. "Source of the typhoid has not yet been determined," he added.

"GRO-PUP...best prepared dog food I have ever used!"

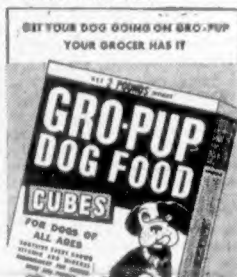

Writes Mrs. M. Stevens, 1698 Gerrard St. East, Toronto, a member of the Canadian Kennel Club, Inc., and well-known breeder of Boston Terriers. Shown above is her latest champion "Maggie Phantom", a winner at five straight shows and four times best of breed, and finishing his championship at the Progressive Club Show in Toronto, 1944.

Here's why so many owners, breeders and nutrition experts recommend GRO-PUP

GRO-PUP contains every Vitamin and Mineral dogs are known to need for growth and vigor. PLUS more protein than many experts say dogs need for vital well-being (22% protein, 1/2 animal protein, 1/2 other good protein). DOGS of all sizes and breeds love GRO-PUP... thrive on it!

MONEY-SAVING! One box of GRO-PUP CUBES feeds an average 20-lb. dog a week. 2-lb. packages on sale at all grocers. For kennel owners and breeders, GRO-PUP is available in 100-lb. bags in cube or meal form at feed stores.

No Fraternizing With Nazis Says Eisenhower

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower declared today that "we have a hard job ahead but victory is certain."

The supreme commander said he would permit no fraternizing with the Germans as his invasion armies move deeper into the Reich.

He is resolved on one thing: that the fight will continue unabated through the winter, if necessary, and as much longer as it may take to crush the enemy. There may be pauses in the Allied advances due to the ferocity of German resistance and Allied supply problems, but there will be no letup in aggressive action on the part of the Allies.

Discussing recent operations, the general praised the gallant fight of the British 1st Airborne Division at Arnhem in Holland. Only about 2,000 of 8,000 men returned from the attempt to hold the Arnhem bridgehead.

"I feel myself that not enough credit has been given to the tremendous advantages that accrued to us through operations of the First Allied Airborne Army," he said. "The 1st British Airborne Division not only gave all the Allied forces one of the most gallant examples of bravery, fortitude and courage in themselves the fury of the German counter-attack, they enabled us to hold important bridges."

"It was a valiant manoeuvre and it does not detract in the slightest degree from the excellent work and courage of the 82nd and 101st United States Airborne Divisions which came behind them. They did beautiful work and I am proud of them all."

The present destruction on Aachen by the United States First Army following the refusal of the German commander to surrender to spare the town is a matter of field tactics, rather than general policy toward German cities, he said. Field commanders, it was made clear, can use their own methods as long as they observe the rules of war.

While the general regards a sudden German collapse as always a possibility, he sees no reason to rely on its coming at any given time. The threat of the Red Army in the East and the Allied Army on German soil in the West can have no effect on the leaders who face the loss of everything, once they admit defeat, in Eisenhower's opinion.

He told correspondents today: "I have every confidence in the peoples of the United States, Great Britain, France and all the United Nations to see this war through to final victory, and as long as they will see it through, I know that the soldiers and sailors and airmen possess the indomitable will to win. We have a hard job ahead but victory is certain."

Gen. Eisenhower, who appeared in excellent health, said the Allied armies were entering Germany as conquerors and would treat the Germans justly.

"In Germany, there will be no fraternization," the commander said. "We go in as conquerors. We shall treat them justly in conformity with civilized standards as exemplified by our Governments. We will have nothing else to do with them except in necessary official relationships."

Cody Resigns Varsity Post

TORONTO, Oct. 12 (AP)—The board of governors of the University of Toronto today accepted the resignation of Dr. H. J. Cody as president, effective June 30, 1945, and named Dr. Sidney Smith, formerly president of the University of Manitoba, to succeed him. Dr. Smith's appointment will take effect July 1, 1945.

Dr. Smith will continue his duties as president of University College and assistant to Dr. Cody until his new appointment becomes effective.

Former President Of Argentina Dead

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 12 (AP)—Dr. Ramon S. Castillo, former President of Argentina, died tonight. Castillo committed Argentina to a policy of isolation in a telephone call to his foreign minister, Ruiz Guinazu, which marked the turning point of the Rio de Janeiro Conference of 1942.

As a consequence of that call Ruiz Guinazu was obliged to tell the conference that he was unable to accept a binding resolution for a rupture of relations with the Axis to which he previously had agreed in principle.

THOUSANDS OF OUR CANADIAN GUNS FIRE AS MANY AS 700 SHELLS IN AN 8-HOUR ATTACK!

We cannot hear the roar of Canadian guns—we cannot smell the acrid fumes—we cannot feel the earth shake beneath our feet.

But our guns and our gunners are over there—every day and every night blasting the path to Berlin.

We at home cannot fire the guns—but we can feed them—we must feed them. Not with hundreds—or with thousands—but with millions of shells.

Our duty at home is two-fold—to make more shells—to loan more money to pay for them.

For urgent war needs, our country must borrow from its citizens a greater total than last year. Our duty is clear. No matter how many bonds we bought in the Sixth Loan, we must buy at least one more than before when the call comes again.

He was accompanied here by B. O. Moson, Vancouver, supervisor of Royal Banks in British Columbia.

Onions Are Plentiful

First Ashcroft potatoes, and Okanagan Globe onions are now arriving in the city, it was learned on wholesale row yesterday. The onion crop is far better than during the two previous years, and a plentiful supply is expected.

Picking onions from the Fraser Valley also arrived yesterday, and a shipment of lettuce from California will be in the end of the week.

California lemons are getting short, wholesalers reported, but d'Anjou pears, California grapes, local Concord grapes, MacIntosh Red and Cox's Orange Pippin apples and crabapples are available.

Supper Club Is Great Success

Music and soft lights made an attractive background for the opening of the Arcade Supper Dance Thursday evening. Chrysanthemums and palm trees decorated the stage, and the hall was colorful in apple green. The charmingly dressed girl, Miss Miss Cornes, and the cloak-room girls, Miss Vera Banks and Miss Angela de Macedo, were dressed in pale green. Waitresses—Miss Mary Stark, Miss Mildred Pearson, Miss Gladys Bickerton and Miss Isabel Maghan—wore attractive pinafores with white blouses. Mr. Ted Groom is president of Spencer's Sport and Social Club. The three conveners, Miss Suzanne Allen, Miss Eddy Robertson and Miss Florence Larkin, were presented with corsage bouquets of gardenias and roses. During the evening two suppers were served.

Nurses Win Bursaries

Miss Pauline Griffin and Miss Lavonne B. Purves, both of Victoria, and Miss Violet A. Hele, Ganges, are among the British Columbia nurses to receive bursary awards for the current college year.

Fifteen British Columbia nurses have been awarded Federal Government scholarships and are now commencing postgraduate courses in teaching and supervision, administration and public health in Canadian universities, announced Miss Grace Fairley, president of the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia, Thursday.

Scholarships are being awarded qualified nurses to enable them to take postgraduate training which will equip them to fill important posts which cannot be allowed to remain vacant, explained Miss Fairley. "Increased demand for nursing service, which we have every reason to anticipate will continue during the postwar years, makes it imperative for us to enroll and train more student nurses, and this, of course, increases the demand for teaching, supervisory and administrative personnel. Almost all hospitals and public health organizations in Canada urgently need more specially qualified nurses, and it is to meet this need that the Federal Government is granting bursaries to nurses carefully selected for special training."

Their New Home Is Canada

Provincial Chapter

Mrs. A. A. Fairley, war work convener, impressed members attending the semi-annual meeting of Provincial Chapter, I.O.E., at Port Alberni, when she related $935,286.90 was raised, and expended for the war effort.

The meeting was held in Victory Hall, commencing Wednesday, and a welcome was extended by Mayor Hamilton—Provincial President Mrs. W. N. Martin gave a report of National Chapter's annual meeting.

Jean Nell Chapter, I.O.E., entertained visiting members. Mr. A. W. Neill, M.P., referred to the tribute paid the memory of his late wife in naming a chapter in her honor.

Thursday a wreath was laid on the Cenotaph by the president, following the meeting. For members not attending executive committee, a visit to local camps was arranged in the morning.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baylis beg to announce that their daughter's marriage has been indefinitely postponed.

Announcements to appear under this heading will be accepted at The Colonist Advertising Department. Minimum charge $1.50 for 10 lines, and 15¢ for each additional line.

Recipes of The Week

TIPS FOR COOKING CEREALS

1. Start cooking cereals in top of double boiler over direct heat. To prevent boiling over, lightly grease upper two inches of saucepan in which cereals are cooked.

2. Sprinkle cereal gradually into the boiling, salted water, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Keep water boiling to prevent cereal becoming sticky.

3. Boil three to five minutes. Finish cooking over boiling water.

4. When combining two or more cereals, allow time for cereal requiring longest cooking.

5. In cooking packaged cereals, follow manufacturers' directions. In some cases, increasing the time recommended may be desirable.

6. Two tablespoons wheat germ per cup of uncooked cereal may be added to the cereal just before completion of cooking.

One to three teaspoons flaxseed or one-quarter to one-third cup bran may be added to one cup uncooked cereal. Both may be added, if desired.

7. Cereals may be cooked the day before, covered closely and not stirred while being reheated. To prevent the skin forming, cover with a thin layer of cold water.

MILK TOAST

Toast Canada approved or whole grain bread; butter, sprinkle with salt. Serve with scalded milk, allowing one-half cup for each slice; pour hot milk over toast in cereal bowl.

SHIRRED EGGS

Break one or two eggs in well-greased baking dish. Dot with one tablespoon butter or bacon drippings. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for five to eight minutes, or just until whites coagulate. Pour to six eggs baked in large, well-greased casserole; increase time ten to 15 minutes.

A SHORT CUT FOR MAKING COCOA

Make cocoa paste according to this recipe. It will keep for a week or more in a cool place. To make cocoa, just stir five tablespoonfuls of cocoa paste into each quart of hot milk. Cocoa for young children should be very weak.

Cocoa Paste—One cup cocoa, one-half cup sugar, few grains of salt, two cups water. Mix cocoa, sugar, salt. Add water and boil for five minutes. Then cook over boiling water until a smooth, thick paste is formed. This will take about 30 minutes.

NO. 257—EIGHTY-SIXTH YEAR

VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1944

Glancing Over—
Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

THE DAY'S ROUNDUP

If the war situation allows, and there is no reason why it should not, Britain's racing season will be extended a month past its scheduled closing date. It will be the first such extension of the war, if, of course, it takes place. The extra period would compensate for enforced cancellations for reasons connected with the war of two meetings at Salisbury and one at Ascot. Stewards of the English Jockey Club are awaiting a Government decision on the request and also on a suggestion that three more meetings should be added to fill out the extension time. . . . Do you know that it is just about 20 years ago that the veteran boss of the Philadelphia Athletics, Connie Mack, purchased "Lefty" Grove from the International League squad, Baltimore Orioles, for approximately $100,000 cash? Grove stayed with the Philly club for a long time and was their pitching star in the days when they were winning pennants for Connie more than a decade ago. He wound up his career with the Boston Red Sox, retiring from the diamond pastime to go into business for himself. . . . Here is another winner, maybe, next Sunday at the George Vale Golf Club. Elmer Hume to edge out Bert Shum in one of the final finals in a photo finish. Both are fine fellows and this corner wishes that both could win the dice, but, unfortunately, only one can come through in a golf match. . . . Jockey Jimmy Wright told me when the local race meet closed that he was heading for Bay Meadows, but J.D. has yet to see his name in the winning column. . . . Talking about race riders, Billy Woodhouse, who is well known around this part of the country, is doing well for himself at the California enclosure. He always knew how to handle a horse and does not have to take off his hat to many of the boys on the other side of the border.

IN THE
MAIL BAG

Dear "Observer":
Allow me to thank you for the nice remarks in your recent "notes" about the boys of the 5th Regt. Intermediate Rugby team of a few years back, and also mention of my connection with them.

No man could wish to be associated with a finer group of youngsters than I had at that time. I was fortunate in having some of the best material to be found anywhere, on which to work, and they all had the patience and common sense to play with it and get a thorough grasp of the game, with the result that, as you know, nine members of the 5th Intermediate played in our McKinnon Cup game. Since the more serious game of war started their records in the services are in keeping with the spirit in which they played for Victoria on the Rugby field.

The "notes" are always of interest and doing a lot to keep alive one of the finest and most sporting games ever played.

Yours faithfully,

JOHN BAXTER.

Comment: Thanks for the letter, John, regarding the remarks about the good old game of English Rugby. You had a strong squad some days and, as we all know the boys went from the intermediate ranks to senior company in one big jump. Some of those lads have already paid the supreme sacrifice on the battlefronts and others are still wearing the uniform, waiting for the day when Hitler and Tojo will call it a day. This scribbler was talking to "Observer" yesterday, by the way, and he was glad to receive your letter through this department, and that is why J.D. figured it was worth publishing.

GRID GAME SATURDAY

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12 (CP)—St. Paul's College Crusaders tonight prepared for their East-West High School Rugby football game with St. Michael's College of Toronto here Saturday.

Coach Bert Warwick, former assistant coach of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, said he was confident his Crusaders would give the opposition a good battle.

St. Paul's has played only one contest this season. They lost to St. John's College, who will oppose St. Michael's Monday.

The game will be played under Western Canada High School rules which permit blocking up to ten yards.

MONTHLY COMPETITION

The second monthly competition at the Victoria Golf Club will be an 18-hole per competition, full handicap, to be played on Saturday and Sunday.

Intending competitors may play on either day, but the more convenient of the two days given or may take out a card on both days if they so desire.

GRECO SCORES VICTORY

MONTREAL, Oct. 12 (CP)—Johnny Greco, Montreal, maintained his unbeaten pace on the fast-paced trail here tonight, when he outpointed Oscar Wraga, of New York, in a feature ten-round bout. Greco weighed 166½, Wraga at 147½.

More than 40 countries have adopted the idea of selling stamps at Christmas to raise money to help tuberculosis.

Twilight Tear Is Handicap Winner

Captures Feature Event at Laurel Race Track—Tops Field in $10,000 Event

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 12 (AP)—Calumet Farm's Twilight Tear, filly queen of the American turf, led at every stride today for the easiest kind of triumph in the $10,000-added Queen Isabella Handicap, feature of the Laurel Park Columbus Day card.

The Tear, ridden by Doug Dodson, displayed the fine form which has given her a clear-cut claim to the 1944 championship among fillies as she led the Cain Hay Stables' Good Morning to the wire by five lengths. Two lengths farther back was Col. C. V. Whitney's Legend Bearer, third in the one and one-eighth-mile test for fillies and mares.

An estimated 10,000 fans watched the Calumet star collect $7,725 for her winning effort today, boosting her 1944 winnings to $141,800. Her all-time earnings were raised to $176,415, placing her second only to top filly among fillies on the American turf.

The Tear covered the route under top weight of 126 pounds in 1:53 1-5 over a fast track. It was her 13th victory in 15 tries this year.

As a betting proposition, the Calumet entry of Twilight Tear, Miss Kenneland and Mar-Kell paid $2.30 to win, and $2.10 each for place and show.

Miss Kenneland ran fourth most of the way and finished in that slot. Mar-Kell was a disappointing seventh.

Three Games On the Card
Soccer swings into its second week of competition over the week-end with all six clubs scheduled to see action. Two games are carded for local fans on Saturday, while on Sunday V.M.D. journeys to Nanaimo for a game with the Up-Island eleven.

Navy, who showed a lot of promise as they dropped a 2-0 decision to the V.M.D. in the league opener a week ago, will meet the Army, making their first start of the year, at Athletic Park on Saturday, 9:10.

Woodhouse, who is well known around this part of the country, is doing well for himself at the California enclosure. He always knew how to handle a horse and does not have to take off his hat to many of the boys on the other side of the border.

Heywood Avenue will be the scene of the second game and will bring together the newly-formed Wests and the R.C.A.F. Game time is 3 o'clock. The Wests, in their first appearance on Thanksgiving Day, held the Nanaimo club to a scoreless draw and, with a little more experience, could easily have won. With a game under their belts and with the return of a player or two they are counting on coming through with their initial league triumph.

The R.C.A.F. are an unknown quantity to date and so far have not announced a starting line-up, but are expected to be able to field a club who will be able to hold their own in the league.

Arnold Peterson and Norm Baker, two well-known athletes, are practically certain to be among the starting line-up.

SAINT THOMAS READY
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12 (AP)—Saint Thomas (born Thomas Reed), the heavyweight boxer who was ejected from Father Divine's "heaven" a year ago, came back into the fold tonight.

Saint Thomas, who has a date with Melio Bellina in the ring at Convention Hall Monday night, made his peace with his spiritual mentor at the banquet table.

Words are inadequate to express my colossal feelings over your accepting me back into the kingdom," he said in a speech. "I deviated from the right of way father, but now nothing on this planet will lead me astray again."

Outside the banquet hall, Fred Irwin, the boxer's manager, drew a sigh of relief.

"That's over now," he said. "The 707's been driving us nuts mooning about Father Divine. Now maybe he'll concentrate more on his training."

MONTHLY COMPETITION
The second monthly competition at the Victoria Golf Club will be an 18-hole per competition, full handicap, to be played on Saturday and Sunday.

Intending competitors may play on either day, but the more convenient of the two days given or may take out a card on both days if they so desire.

300 Rugby Players In Patrick Pleased
With His SquadMany Prospective
Ruggers in City

By OBSERVER

Before going very far down this column, one should answer an inquiry as to how many Rugby players there are in Victoria and district these days? The answer is that there are approximately 300. These figures will, no doubt, surprise many who honestly thought there are few; the fact is, the numbers are increasing, due largely to many more youngsters coming into the game.

The number quoted includes such schools as Shawinigan, Brentwood College and University School. At some later date we can give you the numbers in detail.

When the R.C.A.F. fifteen next meet the Royal Canadian Naval College fifteen we can look forward to a very exciting and fast game of Rugby as the former will be at full strength for the first time. One of the Flyers who was watching the game on Saturday last told the writer that when the Flyers are at full strength they can beat the fifteen representing the Royal Naval College by 30 points.

The writer believes the Flyers who, by the way, is also a player, to be wonderfully optimistic, and that any fifteen playing in or around Victoria will have to play good Rugby in order to beat the Cadets. However, it is most encouraging to know of a team beaten by 20 clear points to say they were quite satisfied with last Saturday's showing and that the next game will be different. This is the spirit we want and it can be said of the Flyers that last week, though they were beaten on the afternoon's play, they kept on trying and were rewarded when out of the blue, in the dying seconds of the game, Surgeon of the Flyers scored one of the finest tries seen for a long time, which brought the game to its feet and loud applause. It was a fine finish to a game remarkably fast so early in the season. Credit must go to the Cadets, who kept passing the ball around during the afternoon. Any fifteen who does just that can keep the other side on the defensive.

If the New Zealand players are as good as we all hope they are, then perhaps we shall have the opportunity of seeing just how good are the Cadets when put on the defensive. We all look forward to a good game and perhaps one of the best of the present season.

Next Wednesday the Intermediate League games get under way. The first will be Victoria High School against Oak Bay High, the latter being last year's champions. The meeting between these two fifteen is always colorful and no doubt both will have their full quota of followers and their bands. Vie High Majorettes will probably have their first parade of the season at half-time. This game will be played on Victoria High School grounds at 3:45 p.m. Doug Wallis and Bunney Burn have been getting the Oak Bay lads, and Hugh Penner will again be coach for the Oak Bay lads. May the best team win.

Next week, when more space is available, an answer will be given to a number of inquiries as to why the referee did not give the Flyers the opportunity of trying to convert their try before he blew his final whistle.

Twentieth RACE—Six furlongs. Maud S (Boufford) 37.10 36.00 35.00. Somers (Lasswell) 36.00 35.00 34.00. Time, 1:13. Also ran: Nemo, Bonifant, O. Lakes, Mighty Midget, Lakewood, Drayton, Penn, On Late, No Count, Steve Van Allen.

Nineteen Seasoned Players Go Through
Workout in Winnipeg—Other Clubs Train

By OBSERVER

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12 (CP)—New York Rangers of the N.H.L. opened pre-season training today with Manager Lester Patrick more than pleased with the outlook for the season. The bluelines open the 1944-45 season in Toronto on October 28.

Nineteen seasoned professionals ran through scrimmages directed by Coach Frank Bouckert.

Working out at defence was Ott Heller, who is starting his 13th season with the club. Other veterans back with the club are Bryan Hewitt, who missed part of last season with a fractured skull; Kilby Macdonald and Hank Goldup, both recently discharged from the army; Buck McDonald and Goal Keeper Ken McAuley.

When the R.C.A.F. fifteen next meet the Royal Canadian Naval College fifteen we can look forward to a very exciting and fast game of Rugby as the former will be at full strength for the first time. Chart Shows Proposed Breakwater to Protect Harbor

Advocating a form of home government, the speaker said British Columbians were now experiencing government from a great distance. They were approaching a time when they would be asked to choose what form of government they desired, and whether or not they got a government of free men depended on everybody, he concluded.

breakwater should start at Macaulay Point and extend south and easterly to within 1500 feet of the outer end of the Brothie Ledge extension. The area outlined in top centre was recommended for dredging by Captain T. V. Hill, master of the liner Aorangi. He was concerned lest his ship would ground there if by any chance it missed its berth at Pier 2. Ships have done just that, one within the past few months.
